Non-Medical Home Care Providers

Home Care providers assist individuals with completing daily living activities or supportive cares in their home. Activities typically consist of companionship care, housekeeping, medication reminders, grocery shopping, running errands, transportation to doctor’s appointments, meal preparation, and more. They may also provide assistance with personal cares. Please contact the provider directly for more information.

Questions to consider:

- Are they available for the days and times requested?
- What is their cancellation policy?
- What is the policy if the home care worker is not available?
- What type of services are you looking for and does the agency provide the services you need (i.e. bathing, dressing, medication reminders, housekeeping)? Can services include certain activities or hobbies?
- What training does the staff receive to provide these services?
- What experience, qualifications, licensing or certifications does the agency have?
- What is the cost per hour? Is there additional travel costs?
- Does the agency have a minimum or maximum length of time per visit or week?
- Is there a fee for an assessment or a “startup” fee?
- What is the agency’s policy surrounding filing a complaint or grievance? What is their policies surrounding protecting your loved one from any neglect, abuse, or misappropriation?
- Who supervises the quality of care provided?
- Does the agency have anyone willing to give a reference or have references available to review?
- Is there a written care plan?
- What payment options are available?
